

WARRANTY: Armstrong Technologies Inc (ATI) equipment is warranted against defects in material and workmanship for a period of one (1) year from date of shipment. Contact Armstrong Technologies Inc for more information. Calibration and bulk leak detection cable, which is supplied without factory termination, is not warranted. During the warranty period, ATI will repair or replace components that prove to be defective in the opinion of ATI. The corporation is not liable for auxiliary interfaced equipment, or consequential damage.

NOTE: Any substitution or tampering with components without expressed, written permission of ATI may result in intrinsic damage, which will cancel the effectiveness of the warranty. Extended warranties are available through the factory. Service agreements may supersede standard warranty terms.

PRODUCT RETURN UNDER WARRANTY: All products returned for warranty service will be shipped by prepaid freight and will only be accepted with a Return Merchandise Authorization (RMA) number issued by ATI. All products returned to the client will be freight collect.

LIABILITY: All ATI products shall be installed by a qualified technician and maintained according to ATI product Installation and Maintenance instruction manuals. ATI shall not be responsible for any liability arising from auxiliary interfaced equipment. ATI's total liability is contained in the warranty conditions stipulated above. No other acceptance of liability is expressed or implied by ATI.

All product manuals should be READ CAREFULLY and COMPLETELY, as the purchaser is entirely responsible for proper installation and operation. The manuals can be downloaded from our website. A tag is inserted into the packaging of each product listing the LINK for downloading the manual.

MODIFICATIONS AND SUBSTITUTIONS: Due to an ongoing development program, ATI reserves the right to modify the design and substitute components in any of its products without prior notice. All changes are at the sole discretion of ATI and the corporation shall not be liable for any cost arising out of such modifications or substitutions that may be incurred by the user.

NOTE: Should your application require customized systems or equipment, ATI has the technical expertise to assist. Please contact our Sales & Marketing department to discuss your requirements.
